COVER

Kent Perry painted this beautiful watercolor showing ex-Molino Lumber Company Shay #1 working on the Loma Prieta Lumber Company. Both of these early logging railroads were 30-inch gauge and ran in the mountains behind Santa Cruz, California. Little #1 was built in 1912 and weighed only 11 tons. She was designed to run around very sharp curves and up steep grades. Kent is interested in painting on commission. The original painting for this cover is for sale and Kent is also selling signed copies of this issue's cover. Write to Kent Perry at P.O. Box 184, Soquel, CA 95073.
