COVER

California, the Golden State, has had many interesting short lines. One of the most interesting was the Yosemite Valley Railroad which ran up to El Portal at the entrance to the beautiful Yosemite Valley in the Sierra Nevada area. Patrick Karnahan has captured the charm of this railroad on our May cover. His painting shows #28 rumbling across a bridge with a mixed train. Patrick has become known for his beautiful western art. If you are interested in commissioning a painting, write to him at 20180 Soulsbyville Rd., Soulsbyville, CA 95372.
