COVER

This issue's cover shows Alberni Pacific #7 storming across a log bridge. In 1969, this locomotive worked the last steam-hauled log train in Canada. Then #7 was used as a mill switcher until 1972. She now hauls railfans and tourists from Port Alberni on Vancouver Island, some 6 miles to the restored and operating McLean sawmill. The painting was made by George Williamson, 1730 Centenary Dr. Nanaimo, BC Canada V9X 1A3, phone/fax 250/754-8315.
